WHY CHOOSE PERSONAL CARE?

Personal care is appropriate for individuals who do not need the intensive, hands-on nursing care provided in a nursing home but need some assistance with daily tasks, such as dressing, bathing and grooming, meal preparation and medication management.

Consider personal care if your loved one suffers from a chronic disease, memory loss or another condition that significantly affects daily living. Many residents' health and wellness improve after moving to personal care with the security and support of fellow residents and compassionate staff.
