Orthopedics, Pediatrics and Women's Health have long been notable services at Penn Highlands Healthcare. The Brain and Spine Center is newer but is notable in its own right. Now, a new and modern three-story plus ground floor building will be built on the campus of Penn Highlands DuBois West to create a hub for these Centers of Excellence under one roof.

Entering at the ground floor, a stunning circulation area and lobby greet patients and visitors. On this floor, a new 10,000 square foot Penn Highlands Neuroscience suite increases patient access for PH Neurology, PH Neurosurgery and Rehabilitation Disorder services.

The first floor will house the Orthopedic Center. A multi-provider office suite will have space for Imaging Services, so patients don't have to go far for x-rays. Pain Management will also have a suite along with The Rehabilitation Center outpatient therapies in 8,000 square foot with room for equipment and running, throwing and sprinting space, aquatherapy and private treatment areas.

The second floor will be the home of the Women's Center of Excellence, which includes office suites for Penn Highlands Life's Journey, Penn Highlands Perinatology (including high risk ultrasounds) and Penn Highlands Pediatrics. Imaging Services will provide patient access to the Breast Center of Excellence, providing 3D mammography, breast ultrasounds and bone density scans. Patients that require breast surgery or breast reconstruction will have access to plastic, reconstruction and general surgeons who specialize in breast surgery.

The third floor provides approximately 25,000 square feet available for future outpatient services.

MASTER FACILITIES PLAN SUMMARY

- Phase I will occur over three years
- Recruiting efforts are underway to support these building efforts

Penn Highlands Healthcare embarked upon Phase I of its Master Facility Plan that will modernize, improve and expand upon the exceptional services we offer our patients at our hospital campuses and outpatient facilities in the 13-county region we service.

To support these building efforts, we will recruit an additional 100 providers (physicians and advanced practice providers) and over 300 new professional staff members in the nursing and support services fields.

These are exciting times for Penn Highlands Healthcare and we look forward to your support as we continue to grow as the largest independent community-based healthcare provider in the West/Central Pennsylvania region.
